

AACOM Educational Debt Management Module – Student Certification Form

The American Association of Colleges of Osteopathic Medicine (AACOM) offers an online series of educational debt management modules designed to help osteopathic medical students and recent graduates. The modules' content is updated to ensure consistency with current federal policies and regulations.

Each module contains specific information and resources to help osteopathic medical students borrow strategically and ensure they are prepared to responsibly repay their loans after they graduate and enter residency training.

Instructions

Please confirm completion of each assigned module. Check all that apply.

- Borrowing Considerations and Repayment Options
