

Now Recruiting!

Assistant/Associate Professor in Biomedical Sciences

The Alabama College of Osteopathic Medicine (ACOM) is now recruiting for an Assistant or Associate Professor in the Biomedical Sciences. This is a new full-time position to add to our existing faculty to teach first and second-year medical students. We are looking for a candidate whose training and experiences will enhance our existing faculty's basic sciences areas of expertise. The faculty member is expected to contribute to the development of scholarly programs in areas of their choosing.

Required Qualifications:

- PhD or equivalent in Molecular Sciences, Biomedical Sciences or other related field

Preferred Qualifications:

- Prior teaching experience in a medical or biomedical program is a plus.

The review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. Salary will be commensurate with experience and qualifications, and includes an excellent benefits package.

Applicants should submit a letter of application; statements of teaching interests/philosophy and scholarly interests; current curriculum vitae; and contact information for three professional references to: James D. Foster, PhD, Associate Dean of Anatomy, Molecular Medicine, Research and Graduate Studies at ACOM. jfoster@acom.edu, 334.699.2266.

Electronic submissions are encouraged.

ACOM does not discriminate on the basis of age, race, color, sex, gender, sexual orientation, religion or creed, national or ethnic origin, or disability in its programs, activities, hiring or the admission of students. This policy applies in recruitment and admission of students, employment of faculty and staff, and scholarship and loan programs. This policy is also followed in the operation of all other programs, activities and services of the College. ACOM is proud to be a tobacco-free and drug-free campus.

ABOUT ACOM

The Alabama College of Osteopathic Medicine (ACOM) is a comprehensive, four-year osteopathic medical college located in Dothan, Alabama. The city of Dothan has a low crime rate, a cost of living well below the national average and is about 90 minutes from the Emerald Coast beaches of Florida. The college is the academic division of the Houston County Health Care Authority, which is affiliated with Southeast Health. ACOM was the first osteopathic college established in Alabama and was the first osteopathic college in the nation to share a campus with a regional medical center.
